Why the Offer should be accepted

1. An expanded and simplified structure increases exposure to the rapidly growing lithium market The Combined Group will create a leading diversified lithium company with direct ownership of both L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] AND a portfolio of potential hard-rock lithium production interests.
2. A Combined Group provides access to the synergies of both L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] Lithium Australia already holds rights for L-Max[®] and would like to see L-Max[®] proved and developed.
3. Lithium Australia plans to fast-track L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] Lithium Australia plans to combine the commercialisation of L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] thereby achieving substantial savings in capital and development costs and potentially providing a single, one-stop-shop solution for lithium extraction and production.
4. A larger company is better placed to gain market support Lithium Australia believes a Combined Group will have a stronger balance sheet which will provide a strengthened financial base with which to attract further support from lithium consumers, and in particular battery-makers. The larger market capitalisation for the Combined Group will create greater interest from institutional investors and improve the capacity to raise the necessary funds for the Combined Group capital programs.
5. There is an urgent need for LPD Shareholders to seize the moment Lithium Australia believes there is a strategic urgency to seizing a once-in-a-cycle opportunity to develop and exploit both the L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] technologies.
6. LPD Shareholder support LPD Shareholders representing 17.76% of LPD Shares have entered into Pre-Bid Acceptance Agreements to support Lithium Australia in initiating this Offer.
7. LIT Shares trade in a far more liquid market than your LPD Shares A comparison of the value of LIT Shares and LPD Shares traded on ASX since Lepidico changed its name effective 30 November 2016 until 3 February 2017 (the Trading Day prior to the Announcement Date) shows a total of $10.6 million in LIT Shares traded compared to a total value for LPD Shares of $2.6 million traded.

Chairman's letter

Dear Lepidico Shareholder

On behalf of the Lithium Australia Board, I congratulate you on your decision to become an investor in the lithium production and technology sector.

Lithium Australia shares your view that lithium is fuelling a revolution in energy storage, and that demand for lithium will continue to expand rapidly over the next decade. Lithium Australia plans to establish a secure supply chain with which to deliver lithium chemicals into this rapidly expanding market.

The Combined Group would consolidate a large and diverse portfolio of prospective lithium exploration tenements which could potentially supply this supply chain as feedstock to Lithium Australia's proposed hydrometallurgical processing plants.

I am pleased to present you with this Offer to acquire all your LPD Shares at a ratio of 1 LIT Share for every 13.25 LPD Shares you own. Lithium Australia's closing share price of 18 cents on the ASX trading day prior to announcement of the Offer compared to LPD's closing share price of 1.2 cents the same day implies an offer premium of 13% to the market value of your shares on that date. Based on those share prices the respective undiluted ASX market capitalisations of the companies at the Announcement Date were as follows.

Lithium Australia	$46 million
Lepidico	$21 million

If you accept this Offer and we acquire ownership of Lepidico, you will become a shareholder of a Combined Group better able to successfully undertake the commercialisation processes required to bring the core technologies of each individual company, Sileach™ and L-Max®, to market.

Currently, Lithium Australia has exclusive rights for L-Max® in Western Australia (the world's fastest developing hard-rock lithium province) until 7 July 2020 and other rights to L-Max® internationally. So, Lithium Australia already has good reasons to see the L-Max® technology proven and developed.

The strategies of both companies overlap and each takes a similar position in terms of product development. Both Sileach™ and L-Max® are hydrometallurgical processes, meaning they do not require the expensive, energy intensive roasting step traditionally undertaken to convert lithium from hard-rock sources into chemical grade lithium products. In this sense, both companies share the common 'disruptive' objective of replacing the traditional lithium production process.

Both companies face the same challenges and the road to success can be shared.

Already, LPD Shareholders representing 17.76% of LPD Shares have entered into Pre-Bid Acceptance Agreements to support Lithium Australia in initiating this Offer.

Lithium Australia believes the Offer provides a unique opportunity to bring Sileach™ and L-Max® into a single, ownership structure, thereby fast-tracking both technologies in parallel and:

- providing a cheaper route to commercialisation (looking to build a single pilot plant to test Sileach™ and L-Max® in parallel, rather than two separate plants);
- creating a better platform to attract necessary development capital; and
- potentially creating a 'one-stop-shop' for hydrometallurgical lithium extraction and production, using both Sileach™ and L-Max® processing streams on a fit-for-product basis.

Accordingly, we believe that by exchanging your LPD Shares for LIT Shares under the Offer you will, in addition to receiving the implied premium for your LPD Shares, become a shareholder in a Combined Group that is stronger and more diversified, with attractive prospects in one of the world's most exciting and important growth sectors – the lithium battery market.

We believe this Offer is attractive and encourage you to accept without delay.

The Offer is subject to the conditions set out in Section 9 of Annexure A.

If you have any questions about the Offer, please contact your broker or financial adviser or call the shareholder information line on 1300 568 726 (toll-free) (for callers within Australia) or +61 2 8022 7947 (for callers outside Australia) or email lithiumaustralia@investorinfo.net.au.

Yours sincerely

Mr George Bauk
Chairman

25.	What are the tax implications of accepting the Offer?	A summary of the Australian tax consequences for LPD Shareholders who accept the Offer is set out in Section 8. This summary is expressed in general terms only and is not intended to provide taxation advice for your specific circumstances. LPD Shareholders should seek their own taxation advice in relation to the Offer.	Section 8 of this Bidder's Statement sets out further information.

2. Reasons to accept the Offer

An expanded and simplified structure increases exposure to the rapidly growing lithium market

The Combined Group would be a leading and diversified lithium company with direct ownership of:

- both L-Max[®] and Sileach[™] - although each is different, Sileach[™] and L-Max[®] are both hydrometallurgical processes, and in that sense share a 'common disruptive' objective, that of replacing the traditional lithium production process;
- a large and diverse portfolio of potential hard-rock lithium production interests, and
- licensing interests in Canada, Thailand and Europe.

A Combined Group provides access to the synergies of both L-Max[®] and Sileach[™]

Currently Lithium Australia has a right for L-Max[®] in Western Australia (the world's fastest developing hard rock lithium province) and other rights to L-Max[®] internationally. So, Lithium Australia already has a vested interest in seeing the L-Max[®] technology proven and developed as an alternative technology to Sileach[™].

The Combined Group is likely to have superior access to capital markets, greatly improving the prospects of raising the capital required to achieve this.

Lithium Australia plans to fast-track L-Max[®] and Sileach[™]

Lithium Australia believes that taking charge of these processes by way of the Offer is the fastest and most economical way to commercialise both. This can be achieved by broader access to technical expertise and improved access to capital markets. Combining the commercialisation of both Sileach[™] and L-Max[®], Lithium Australia believes, will:

- provide substantial cost savings from pursuing a single pilot demonstration facility, rather than separate plants for each process; and
- potentially provide a one-stop solution for lithium extraction and production, in that the Sileach[™] and L-Max[®] processing streams can be utilised on a fit-for-product basis.

A Combined Group is better placed to attract market support

Lithium Australia believes a Combined Group will create a stronger balance sheet and:

- garner more support from the capital markets for development finance - the larger market capitalisation for the Combined Group will create greater interest from institutional investors and will improve the capacity to raise the necessary funds for the Combined Group capital programs, and
- attract more lithium consumers willing to negotiate product supply contracts.

LPD Shareholders should seize the moment

Lithium Australia believes this is a once-in-a-cycle opportunity to develop and exploit the Sileach[™] and L-Max[®] technologies, as:

- conversion of lithium from ore to chemical compounds currently occurs mainly in China, using traditional processes, and this creates a major supply bottleneck;

- major consumers of lithium chemicals (battery makers in particular) are seeking alternate production sources and Lithium Australia wants to be at the forefront in meeting this demand, and
- Lithium Australia believes there is an exciting commercial opportunity to build a lithium treatment plant in Western Australia, proximal to lithium sources, which will save on shipping costs to converters in northern Asia.

Lithium Australia believes this is a great opportunity for Western Australia as well as Australia and wants LPD Shareholders to be part of it.

There is already LPD Shareholder support

LPD Shareholders representing 17.76% of LPD Shares have entered into Pre-Bid Acceptance Agreements to support Lithium Australia in initiating this Offer.

LIT Shares will trade in a far more liquid market than LPD Shares.

The liquidity in the market place for LIT Shares is far greater than that for LPD Shares.

A comparison of volumes of LIT Shares and LPD Shares traded on the ASX since LPD changed its name effective 30 November 2016 until the Announcement Date shows a total of $10.6 million in LIT Shares traded compared to a total value for LPD of $2.6 million traded.

There is no competing proposal

Even if there was a competing bid for LPD Shares, Lithium Australia believes that it is in the best position to launch the strategy it proposes.

There are risks in not accepting the Offer

If the Offer does not result in Lithium Australia acquiring 100% of Lepidico, and no superior proposal emerges, LPD Shares may trade at a discount to the implied Offer price. Further, not accepting the Offer involves certain risks that LPD Shareholders should be aware of, namely:

- depending on what level of acceptances Lithium Australia receives under the Offer, the market for LPD Shares may be even less liquid or active than it is at present;
- if Lithium Australia becomes entitled to compulsorily acquire LPD Shares, it intends to exercise those rights, in which case you will still receive the consideration under the Offer for your LPD Shares but later than you would have had you accepted the Offer.

If you wish to accept this Offer, you must follow the instructions set out in the enclosed Acceptance Form and summarised at question 15 in Section 1 above by midnight (WST) on ##.

3. Profile of Lithium Australia

3.1 Overview

Lithium Australia is a dedicated developer of disruptive lithium extraction technologies, and 100% owner of the Sileach™ process for the recovery of lithium from silicates, as well as an exclusive right to utilise L-Max® in Western Australia and other rights to L-Max® internationally. Lithium Australia has strategic alliances with a number of companies, creating the potential for it to access a diversified lithium mineral inventory. Lithium Australia plans to marry resources and the best available technology, thereby establishing a global lithium processing business.

3.2 Board

Details of the Lithium Australia Board, as at the date of this Bidder's Statement, are set out below.

- (a) George Bauk (Non-Executive Chairman, appointed 15 July 2015) - Mr Bauk has more than 25 years of mining industry experience, including particular expertise in critical metals. Skilled in strategic management, business planning, the establishment of high-performing teams and capital-raising, Mr Bauk has held senior operational and corporate positions with WMC Resources and Arafura Resources and was previously managing director of Indigo Resources (formerly Western Metals). Since 2010, Mr Bauk has been managing director and CEO of Northern Minerals, overseeing that company's heavy rare earth project in northern Australia. That role has included organising a successful greenfields exploration programme, obtaining government approvals for production and co-existence agreements with traditional owners, initiating a definitive feasibility study and establishing off-take agreements with international suppliers, as well as substantial fund-raising - all of which has provided him with valuable exposure to critical metals markets – experience now directly applicable to advancing the activities of Lithium Australia.
- (b) Adrian Griffin (Managing Director, appointed 31 January 2011) - Mr Griffin has accumulated extensive experience in the resource sector over the past 35 years. In that time, he has held directorships in a number of private and listed resource companies and been responsible for operating large integrated mining and processing facilities including the Bulong nickel-cobalt operation in the late 1990s. Mr Griffin also has substantial experience in the mining industry in South Africa; in particular, he was founder and technical director of Ferrum Crescent Limited, a developer of iron ore in that country. Mr Griffin is currently a director of Northern Minerals Limited, Parkway Minerals NL, and Reedy Lagoon Corporation Limited.
- (c) Bryan Dixon (Non-Executive Director, appointed 7 December 2009) - Mr Dixon too has substantial experience in the mining sector and in the management of public and listed companies. Previously employed by KPMG, Resolute Samantha Limited, Société Générale and Archipelago Resources Plc, Mr Dixon is managing director of ASX-listed Blackham Resources Limited where under his stewardship Blackham has consolidated the Wiluna goldfield and taken the Matilda/Wiluna Gold Operation from scoping to production within 16 months following the financing of the project taking Blackham from a market capitalisation of $6 million to $228 million. As a chartered accountant, he contributes additional project development, project acquisition, financing and corporate skills to Lithium Australia.

3.3 Summary of activities

Early in the 2014-15 financial year, Lithium Australia noticed an important change in lithium supply – a broadening supply gap and a potential shortage of available lithium. The dynamics of the current situation are complex, with supply controlled by only a handful of producers. Recognising an unparalleled opportunity to create an independent supply stream, Lithium Australia sought to develop lithium processing technologies that have the potential to be more cost-effective than the traditional, energy-intensive processes. If successful, these technologies will prove truly disruptive to the lithium industry.

Lithium Australia recognises that current mining and processing methods generate abundant reject lithium mineral streams such as lithium micas and contaminated spodumene, and that these, if processed using Lithium Australia's 100% owned Sileach™ process, could bolster lithium chemical supply. Applying Lithium Australia's disruptive technology to mine waste and other less commonly processed minerals, such as lepidolite (a common lithium mica), could be a solution for the supply constrained battery market. Independent laboratory tests have confirmed the efficacy of the Sileach™ process, which allows what was previously considered 'waste' to be re-classified as 'ore', thereby establishing lithium micas as a primary ore source.

The disruptive processes developed by Lithium Australia are hydrometallurgical and have a very low energy footprint, since unlike conventional methods no roasting is required. Significant by-product credits further enhance their economic benefits. Indeed, estimated operating costs suggest these processes may be competitive with the world's most efficient producers, as long as the cost of providing feed to the lithium chemical plant is low. Thus, lithium minerals contained in processing waste streams present a lucrative target, and Lithium Australia has identified a number of projects where such waste is available.

Further, the abundance and availability of lithium micas and low-grade spodumene concentrates not historically assessed for resource potential has given Lithium Australia scope to establish a project portfolio significant in terms of the lithium industry's recent expansion. Lithium Australia is pursuing this by creating strategic relationships that provide it with potential access to mineralised material and by targeting areas of high prospectivity for spodumene, lithium micas and lithium clay.

3.4 Developing opportunities

Lithium Australia has the exclusive right to use Lepidico's L-Max® process in Western Australia, as well as to use L-Max® outside that state. However, L-Max® is specific to micas and cannot process the substantial spectrum of other lithium minerals, including spodumene.

During 2016, having furthered its relationship with Pilbara Minerals, Lithium Australia sought to explore the possibilities of extracting lithium from spodumene via hydrometallurgy. To that end, Lithium Australia developed the Sileach™ process, which is halogen-based and has demonstrated very rapid leach times.

Laboratory tests of Sileach™ proved positive and Lithium Australia has subsequently commenced pilot testing, the first step towards commercialising the process. With lithium production considered of strategic importance to Australia's mineral industry now and well into the future, Lithium Australia's development programme has attracted government grants at both state and federal levels.

Samples of lithium mica from Lepidolite Hill and spodumene from Pilbara Minerals' Pilgangoora project (both in Western Australia) have since undergone continuous pilot testing. Depending on the outcomes of these pilot plant trials and subject to the outcome of engineering studies, Lithium Australia may commit to the construction and operation of a larger-scale pilot plant for long-term continuous testing and financial evaluation.

Lithium Australia has also developed an alkaline-based lithium extraction method – LieNa™, a patent application for which was lodged in August 2016. Armed with this suite of processing technologies, Lithium Australia can match a particular resource to the most appropriate processing technology.

3.5 Exploration projects

Lithium Australia was a “first-mover” in seeing the potential of underexplored and under-realised lithium geological resources and provinces. In pursuing its strategy to create a union between lithium resources and lithium extraction and processing technology, Lithium Australia has used its first-mover advantage to secure strategic positions in prospective lithium provinces within Australia and overseas. Outlined below are the lithium projects currently being developed by Lithium Australia.

- Ravensthorpe Lithium Project, Western Australia (Lithium Australia 100%) - this project consists of one exploration licence covering a 20 kilometre-long structural corridor that contains Mt Cattlin lithium and tantalum mining operations of Galaxy Resources Limited. The project lies 420 kilometres southeast of Perth.
- Greenbushes, Western Australia (Lithium Australia 100%) - comprising four exploration licences, an additional five exploration licence applications and seven prospecting licence applications, the project is 200 kilometres south of Perth, adjacent to the world’s largest lithium mine, which currently produces about 40% of global lithium supply.
- The Goldfields Lithium Alliance (includes the Coolgardie Rare Metals Venture), Western Australia - Lithium Australia and Cazaly Resources Limited have combined their present and future lithium mineral interests (which lie within a 100-kilometre radius of Kalgoorlie, Western Australia), for an initial period of 5 years from 2016, thereby forming the Goldfields Lithium Alliance. This will significantly enhance the technical and land management resources available for advancing lithium projects within the Goldfields region. The existing projects include the Coolgardie Rare Metals Venture and the Widgiemooltha purchase.

- Seabrook Rare Metals Venture, Western Australia (Lithium Australia 80%, Tungsten Mining NL (ASX: TGN) 20%) - this consists of six exploration licences, located 385 kilometres east-northeast of Perth. Tungsten mineralisation is associated with extensive skarn mineralisation which exhibits strong alkali metal halos, similar to those around lithium pegmatites identified further south.
- Gascoyne, Western Australia (Lithium Australia 100%) - the project consists of four exploration licences/applications. Other projects in the Gascoyne include Cobalark and Yinnitherra. The occurrences within Lithium Australia's ground have not been previously assessed for lithium despite exhibiting exceptionally favourable geological characteristics.
- Memorandum of Understanding with Venus Metals Corporation Ltd in regard to lithium exploration at VMC's Pilgangoora Project, Western Australia - Lithium Australia and Venus Metals Corporation have entered into an agreement to jointly explore certain exploration licences (and current applications). Lithium Australia will undertake exploration activities primarily with respect to evaluating the lithium mica potential of the area controlled by Venus Metals Corporation - using, among other things, advanced proprietary exploration techniques developed by Lithium Australia and the LIBZ® technology provided by SciAps (USA). Using the latter, real-time lithium assays can be undertaken in the field. The area the subject of the joint venture contains abundant pegmatites which will be evaluated both for their lithium potential and for the possibility of both parties benefitting from any lithium mica occurrences within the project area.
- Cape York, Queensland (Lithium Australia 100%) - this project lies on the Cape York Peninsula in Queensland, some 1,700 kilometres northwest of Brisbane. EPM26252 was granted on 19 January 2017 and EPM26255 on 13 February 2017. This includes the projects entitled Amber and Cobree.
- Bynoe, Northern Territory (Lithium Australia 100%) - Lithium Australia has established a foothold in the Bynoe Pegmatite Field, located 50 kilometres south-southwest of Darwin, capital of the Northern Territory, close to infrastructure. EL30897 lies within the Bynoe Pegmatite Field and is part of the wider 200 kilometre long Litchfield Pegmatite Belt which has been intruded by a suite of highly differentiated S-type granites, the probable source of the pegmatites and mineralisation.
- Lake Johnston, Western Australia (Lithium Rights Agreement) - Lithium Australia holds the rights to lithium discovered on the area of two exploration licences held by Lefroy Exploration Limited (ASX: LEX) and in exchange LEX has taken gold and nickel rights over Lithium Australia's E63/1777. The project area lies 440 kilometres east of Perth. Consideration for the sale of the gold and nickel rights in E63/1777 to LEX was 3,000,000 LEX shares, which shares are still held by Lithium Australia.
- Donnelly River (Lithium Australia 100%) - comprising three exploration licences covering approximately 174 square kilometres of prospective graphite-bearing stratigraphy, this project is 240 kilometres south of Perth. Lithium Australia has been preparing to spin out its graphite projects to a current subsidiary BlackEarth Minerals NL (formerly Graphite Australia NL).
- Kangaroo Island, South Australia (Lithium Australia 100%) - Lithium Australia has applied for ground prospective for lithium on Kangaroo Island.
- Electra Joint Venture, Mexico (Lithium Australia 25%, Alix resources Corporation 75%) - this is a farm-in and joint venture in which Lithium Australia can earn up to 65% of the project from its partner Alix Resources Corporation. Lithium Australia is currently working towards lifting its 25% equity to 49%.

- Tin International Joint Venture, Germany (Lithium Australia up to 50%) - Lithium Australia has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with Tin International AG (a subsidiary of German listed Deutsche Rohstoff AG) to form a Joint Venture including the Sadisdorf deposit located in Saxony, Germany. Lithium Australia has the right to earn 15% of the incorporated joint venture company to be established by spending a total of EUR 750,000 on either exploration or payment of cash to Tin International AG by the end of 2017. By investing a further EUR 1.25 million over a 3 year period Lithium Australia has the right to further increase its interests in the joint venture company to 50%. Tin International will also receive a one off payment of EUR 50,000 in cash and LIT Shares to the value of EUR 200,000.

3.6 Technology alliances

- MetalsTech Limited (ASX: MTC) - MTC was formed to identify, fund, acquire, explore and develop high grade hard rock lithium projects in Quebec, Canada. Lithium Australia was a seed investor as part of the strategy to establish a partnership and collaboration agreement for Sileach™ and LieNa™ as well as the further development of lithium extraction technology specific to the spodumene at the MTC projects in Quebec. There is a technology licence agreement between the companies and Lithium Australia was issued a further 1 million shares when MTC listed on ASX on 24 February 2017.
- Letter Agreement with Pilbara Minerals Limited in regard to the Sileach™ Joint Venture - Lithium Australia and Pilbara Minerals Limited have entered into an agreement to establish the Sileach™ Joint Venture on a 50:50 basis to produce lithium carbonate or lithium hydroxide from a Sileach™ processing plant fed by Pilbara Minerals spodumene concentrate.

A first pilot test has been completed and Lithium Australia is in the process of completing technical analysis of the data generated to deliver a scoping study at which point a decision will be made whether to proceed to a prefeasibility study for the construction of a large scale pilot plant facility.

If Lithium Australia is wound up, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of Lithium Australia, divide among the shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of Lithium Australia, and may for that purpose set such value as he considers fair upon any property to be so divided, and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the shareholders or different classes of shareholders. The liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of Lithium Australia, vest the whole or any part of any such property in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the contributories as the liquidator thinks fit, but so that no shareholder is compelled to accept any shares or other securities in respect of which there is any liability. Where an order is made for the winding-up of Lithium Australia or it is resolved by special resolution to wind up Lithium Australia, then on a distribution of assets to members, any shares classified as restricted shares at the time of the commencement of the winding up shall rank in priority after all other shares.

(e) Transfer of shares

Generally, shares in Lithium Australia are freely transferable, subject to formal requirements, the registration of the transfer not resulting in a contravention of or failure to observe the provisions of a law of Australia and the transfer not being in breach of the Corporations Act.

(f) Variation of rights

Pursuant to section 246B of the Corporations Act, Lithium Australia may, with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a meeting of shareholders, vary or abrogate the rights attaching to shares.

If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class), whether or not Lithium Australia is being wound up, may be varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters of the issued shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

- (v) if admitted to the official list of the ASX at the time, apply for official quotation on the ASX of LIT Shares issued pursuant to the exercise of the LIT Options.

If a notice delivered under (g)(iv) for any reason is not effective to ensure that an offer for sale of LIT Shares does not require disclosure to investors, Lithium Australia must, no later than 20 Business Days after becoming aware of such notice being ineffective, lodge with ASIC a prospectus prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act and do all such things necessary to satisfy section 708A(11) of the Corporations Act to ensure that an offer for sale of the LIT Shares does not require disclosure to investors.

6. Combined Group

6.1 Approach

This Section 6 provides an overview of Lithium Australia and its subsidiaries in the event of the acquisition by Lithium Australia of all, or a majority of, the LPD Shares on issue, in the various scenarios following the Offer and the effect of the Offer on Lithium Australia and Lepidico. Unless otherwise indicated, the description of the Combined Group in this Section 6 assumes that Lepidico is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lithium Australia. If Lithium Australia is not entitled to compulsorily acquire LPD Shares during the Offer Period, some of the benefits that would otherwise accrue to Lithium Australia if Lepidico were to become a wholly owned subsidiary of Lithium Australia may not be fully realised.

6.2 Disclaimer regarding Lepidico and the Combined Group information

In preparing the information relating to Lepidico and the Combined Group contained in this Bidder's Statement, Lithium Australia has relied on publicly available information relating to Lepidico and this has not been independently verified by Lithium Australia or its Directors. Risks may exist in relation to Lepidico (which may affect the Combined Group) of which Lithium Australia is unaware. If any material risks are known to the directors of Lepidico, they must be disclosed in the target's statement to be issued by Lepidico.

Accordingly, subject to any applicable laws, Lithium Australia makes no representations or warranties (express or implied) as to the accuracy and completeness of such information.

6.3 Profile of the Combined Group

If the Offer is successful, LPD Shareholders will receive 1 LIT Share in exchange for every 13.25 LPD Shares held by an LPD Shareholder. After the Offer, if Lithium Australia is successful in obtaining effective control of Lepidico, all LIT Shareholders (including LPD Shareholders who have received LIT Shares pursuant to the Offer) will be shareholders in the Combined Group.

The following maps set out the interests of the Combined Group both in Australia, Canada and worldwide.

6.4 Effect of completion of the Offer

In the event that Lithium Australia is entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition following completion of the Offer, Lithium Australia will integrate:

- (a) Lepidico's lithium exploration activities and interests into the Lithium Australia diversified exploration portfolio; and
- (b) Lepidico's processing technologies, including L-Max®, with Lithium Australia's own activities for the development and potential commercialisation of hydrometallurgical processing of lithium-bearing ore types.

Lithium Australia also plans to review, optimise and enhance the Lepidico assets and intellectual property and apply its management expertise and experience, with a focus on unlocking the potential of the combined hydrometallurgical technologies and tenement interests.

6.5 Effect of the Offer on Lithium Australia's capital structure if Lithium Australia acquires all LPD Shares

Shares	Number
LIT Shares on issue at date of Bidder's Statement	257,832,829
LIT Shares to be issued under the Offer ¹	132,116,045
Total LIT Shares on issue at completion of the Offer ²	389,948,874

1. Maximum number of LIT Shares to be issued assuming Lithium Australia acquires 100% of Lepidico, no LPD Options are exercised during the Bid Period and no accepting LPD Shareholders would be entitled to Unmarketable Parcels.

2. Assuming no other LIT Shares are issued during the Bid Period through the exercise of LIT Options, the vesting of LIT Performance Rights or otherwise.

6.6 Effect on the substantial shareholders

If the Offer is successful and Lithium Australia acquires all LPD Shares on issue there will be no substantial shareholders of the Combined Group based on the number of LIT Shares and LPD Shares held as stated in substantial holder notices lodged with ASX as at the date of the Bidder's Statement.

6.7 Financial information of the Combined Group

The following pro forma statement of financial position is based on Lithium Australia's consolidated statement of financial position as at and 31 December 2016 (unaudited), the 31 December 2016 financial statements of Lepidico and the total value of the Offer.

The pro-forma information contains the following pro-forma adjustments

- (a) Transaction Costs of Bidder's Statement totalling $424,000. Assuming a 100% take-up, business combination costs amount to $282,809 and classed as an expense with the balance of $141,191 classed as capital raising costs.

(b) Issue of shares

In the event Lithium Australia acquires 100% of Lepidico, Lithium Australia will issue 132,116,045 shares at a fair value of 18 cents per share being the market value of LIT Shares as at 3 February 2017.

(c) Goodwill on acquisition

Lepidico's share capital, reserves and accumulated losses are eliminated. Then, based on the fair value of LIT Shares issued for 100% acquisition and the net assets acquired as per the Lepidico balance sheet dated 31 December 2016 amounts to $19,914,852. The difference of $3,866,036 has been included as an intangible asset. As part of the strategic review referred to in section 7, the intangible asset valuation will be reviewed and Lithium Australia's accounting policies will be applied.

6.8 Outlook for the Combined Group

This Bidder's Statement does not include any financial forecasts or projections for revenue or profit in relation to Lithium Australia, Lepidico or the Combined Group.

Lithium Australia considers that the inclusion of financial forecasts would be speculative and potentially misleading given that:

- (a) the technology, projects and prospects of Lithium Australia and Lepidico have not reached a stage where a reasonable assessment of future earnings can be made;
- (b) the rate of project exploration is subject to inherent risks associated with mineral grades and quantities, mining and process equipment availability, port and rail access, the granting of production licences, extraction and logistics costs;
- (c) the future market prices for minerals in projects held by Lithium Australia and Lepidico are inherently uncertain;
- (d) the intellectual property and technological processes developed by the Combined Group have not been implemented on a commercial scale and the development of those technologies is subject to significant risks and uncertainty.

7. Intentions of Lithium Australia

7.1 Disclosure regarding forward-looking statements

This Bidder's Statement includes forward-looking statements that have been based on Lithium Australia's current expectations and predictions about future events including Lithium Australia's intentions (which include those set out in this Section 7). These forward-looking statements are, however, subject to inherent risks, uncertainties and assumptions that could cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Lithium Australia, Lepidico and the Combined Group to differ materially from the expectations and predictions, expressed or implied, in such forward-looking statements. These factors include, among other things, those risks identified in this Bidder's Statement.

None of Lithium Australia, its officers, nor persons named in this Bidder's Statement with their consent or any person involved in the preparation of this Bidder's Statement makes any representation or warranty (express or implied) as to the accuracy or likelihood of any forward-looking statements. You are cautioned not to place reliance on these statements in the event that the outcome is not achieved. These statements reflect views and opinions as at the date of this Bidder's Statement.

7.2 Rationale for the Offer

If the Offer is successful, Lithium Australia and Lepidico will become part of a Combined Group that will be more capable of successfully undertaking the essential commercialisation processes required to bring the core technologies of both companies, Sileach™ and L-Max®, to market.

Both companies have overlapping strategies and share a similar position in their stages of product development and therefore the challenges facing both are common.

Currently, Lithium Australia has an exclusive right for L-Max® in Western Australia (the world's fastest developing hard-rock lithium province) and other rights to L-Max® internationally. Accordingly, Lithium Australia already has very good reasons to see the L-Max® technology proved and developed.

Lithium Australia believes a Combined Group will create a stronger proposition from which to gain further support, including:

- from capital markets, for development finance, and
- from major lithium consumers, in negotiating lithium supply contracts.

Both Sileach™ and L-Max® come under the umbrella of hydrometallurgical processes and so do not require the expensive, energy-intensive roasting step traditionally undertaken to convert lithium from hard-rock sources into chemical-grade lithium products. In this sense, both companies share the common 'disruptive' objective of replacing the traditional lithium production process.

Lithium Australia believes there is a strong strategic imperative to combine the technological capabilities of both Lithium Australia and Lepidico in order to seize an once-in-a-cycle opportunity that exists to develop and exploit both lithium processing-technologies.

- Major consumers (especially battery makers) are currently looking for production sources outside China.
- Lithium Australia wants to be first to market to meet this demand.

Lithium Australia believes there is an exciting commercial opportunity to build a hydrometallurgical lithium treatment plant, potentially in Western Australia, proximal to supply sources, which will save on shipping costs to converters in northern Asia, and that combining the Sileach™ and L-Max® technologies will further plans for the commercialisation of both and support the development of new lithium treatment plants.

7.3 Intentions regarding Lepidico

(a) Overview

Lithium Australia intends to continue the business of Lepidico in the manner in which it is currently conducted, and to maintain Lepidico's assets and projects in good standing until it can complete the strategic review outlined at Section 7.4(a) below, subject to any variations that Lithium Australia considers necessary in light of its technical and operational experience and expertise and the resources of the Combined Group.

(b) Approach

Sections 7.3, 7.4, 7.5 and 7.6 below set out the intentions of Lithium Australia on the basis of facts and information concerning Lepidico that were known to Lithium Australia at the time of preparation of this Bidder's Statement. However, Lithium Australia will only reach final decisions in light of material facts and circumstances existing at the relevant time. Accordingly, the statements set out in Sections 7.3, 7.4, 7.5 and 7.6 are statements of current intentions only, and these may change as new information becomes available or circumstances change.

7.4 Intentions upon acquisition of 90% or more of Lepidico

This Section 7.4 describes Lithium Australia's intentions if Lithium Australia acquires a Relevant Interest in 90% or more of LPD Shares under the Offer, and so becomes entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition of outstanding LPD Shares in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act.

(a) Strategic review

Subject to what is disclosed elsewhere in Section 7.4, Lithium Australia intends to undertake a detailed review of Lepidico's activities, assets and liabilities, in order to evaluate its prospects, strategic relevance, funding requirements and financial and technical performance. This may lead to modification of some of Lepidico's existing projects and activities. This strategic review will be the main platform Lithium Australia will use to identify and assess the specific areas that may benefit Lithium Australia, as well as the expected costs and time frames.

(b) Intention to continue technology commercialisation programs for both Sileach™ and L Max®

Lithium Australia's plan is to combine the commercialisation of both Sileach™ and L Max®, in order to gain synergies in the testing and commercialisation process for both technologies, and ultimately also to save substantial capital costs by creating processing plants that can utilise both the Sileach™ and L-Max® processing streams on a fit for product basis.

Lithium Australia intends to continue and where possible based on feasibility work undertaken and market conditions, accelerate the works required for the purpose of:

- (i) advancing pilot testing of Sileach™ in order to reach a decision to commit to a large scale pilot plant construction,

- (ii) reviewing the results of the pre-feasibility study completed by Lepidico into a phase 1 L-Max[®] plant.

Depending on the outcomes of these studies and trials and subject to the outcome of the engineering studies, Lithium Australia may commit to the construction and operation of a pilot plant for long-term continuous testing and financial evaluation.

(c) Lepidico exploration projects and expenditure

It is expected that Lithium Australia will utilise its expertise and experience to re-evaluate the Lepidico exploration database and expenditure requirements in order to prioritise exploration and expenditure on areas regarded by Lithium Australia as being the most prospective tenement areas held by the Combined Group. This may result in some exploration assets or interests being disposed of or surrendered. Further, certain contracts that Lepidico are party to may have a change of control clause enabling the other party to terminate the arrangements. Lithium Australia will liaise with each party to determine the best way to proceed with each joint venture or contract.

(d) Composition of the board

Upon Lithium Australia obtaining a Relevant Interest in 90% of the LPD Shares Lithium Australia intends to replace all of the members of the board of directors of Lepidico with the current directors of Lithium Australia.

(e) Corporate matters

Lithium Australia intends to:

- (i) proceed with the compulsory acquisition of any LPD Shares not acquired under the Offer in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act;
- (ii) arrange for Lepidico to be removed from the Official List of the ASX, and
- (iii) amend the constitution of Lepidico to reflect its status as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lithium Australia.

(f) Corporate office and employees

Subject to the strategic review, Lithium Australia intends to continue conducting the Lepidico business in the ordinary course. Lithium Australia will, however, consider centralising the corporate head office of Lepidico by incorporating those functions performed by it into the administrative structure of Lithium Australia. It is proposed that functions such as company secretarial, financial management and accounting will be centralised. It is intended that the centralised corporate office will be in Perth, Western Australia.

Lepidico and its subsidiaries do not have a significant number of employees; however, some of these employees may undertake functions that will be centralised in the Combined Group. Some job losses may occur as a result; however, the incidence, extent and timing of such job losses cannot be predicted in advance. Lithium Australia intends to discuss employment arrangements with the existing personnel.

(g) General business integration

As part of the strategic review, Lithium Australia intends to undertake a specific review of:

- (i) Lepidico's assets and liabilities, and
- (ii) the possible synergies between and benefits of Lithium Australia and Lepidico.
Lithium Australia intends to prepare and implement a business integration plan.

(h) Balance sheet date and accounting policy

Lithium Australia intends to conduct a review of Lepidico's accounting policies. It is expected that this review will result in the adoption of Lithium Australia's accounting policies. Lithium Australia will pay particular attention to the valuation of Intangibles and apply its accounting policy as at the next balance date.

7.5 Intentions upon gaining control but less than 90% of Lepidico

This Section 7.5 describes Lithium Australia's intentions if Lepidico becomes a controlled entity of Lithium Australia, but Lithium Australia is not entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act.

On completion of the Offer, Lithium Australia may hold a sufficient number of LPD Shares to exercise control over the management and operations of Lepidico, but may not be entitled to compulsorily acquire all outstanding LPD Shares. Lithium Australia's intentions in those circumstances are as follows.

(a) General

Lithium Australia will implement the intentions described in Section 7.4 above to the extent possible and economically feasible, and subject to the requirements of the Corporations Act and any other applicable laws or regulations. These intentions specifically include those in respect of strategic review, intention to continue technology commercialisation programs for both Sileach™ and L Max®, Lepidico Exploration Projects and Expenditure, corporate matters, corporate office and employees and general business integration.

Lithium Australia intends, to the extent possible, to implement the intentions detailed in Section 7.4 of this Bidder's Statement where these are consistent with Lepidico being a controlled entity of (but not wholly owned by) Lithium Australia and are considered to be in the best interests of LPD Shareholders as a whole, including the rights of minority shareholders.

(b) Composition of the board

Lithium Australia intends, subject to the Corporations Act and the constitution of Lepidico, to seek to replace some or all of the members of the board of directors of Lepidico. The majority would be replaced with the current directors of Lithium Australia.

Through the Lepidico Board, Lithium Australia intends, to the extent possible, to implement the intentions detailed in Section 7.4 and this section where they are consistent with Lepidico being a controlled entity of (but not wholly owned by) Lithium Australia and are considered to be in the best interests of LPD Shareholders as a whole, including the rights of minority shareholders.

(c) Listing on the Official List of the ASX

Lithium Australia intends to maintain Lepidico's listing on the Official List of the ASX, while it continues to meet its ASX listings requirements. Shareholders of Lepidico are alerted that in this circumstance the liquidity of LPD Shares may be materially decreased. Further If Lithium Australia obtains effective control of Lepidico and there is a limited spread or volume of LPD Shareholders remaining at the end of the Offer Period, Lithium Australia may seek to procure the removal of Lepidico from the official list of the ASX.

If Lithium Australia does not become entitled to compulsorily acquire LPD Shares under Section 661A of the Corporations Act, it may nevertheless become entitled to exercise the general compulsory acquisition power under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act in the future. Lithium Australia intends to exercise that power in respect of LPD Shares if it becomes entitled to do so.

(d) Elimination of duplication

To the extent that activities and functions, including management, presently carried out by Lithium Australia and Lepidico will be duplicated, such duplication will be eliminated where it is economically efficient to do so.

(e) Remaining LPD Shareholders

If Lithium Australia acquires less than 90% of the LPD Shares on issue, then LPD Shareholders should be aware that if they do not accept the Offer they may become a 'locked-in' minority after the end of the Offer Period (that is, if Lithium Australia holds a majority of LPD Shares but is not entitled to compulsorily acquire the remaining LPD Shares).

It is possible that, even if Lithium Australia is not entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition of minority holdings after the end of the Offer Period under Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act, it may subsequently become entitled to exercise rights of general compulsory acquisition under Part 6D.2 of the Corporations Act (for example, as a result of acquisitions of LPD Shares in reliance on the '3% creep' exception in item 9 of Section 611 of the Corporations Act). If so, it intends to exercise those rights.

(f) Limitations in giving effect to intentions

There may be limitations to Lithium Australia's intentions as outlined in this Section 7.5 due to the legal obligations of Lepidico's directors to have regard to the best interests of Lepidico and its shareholders, including the rights of minority shareholders, and the requirements of the Corporations Act and other applicable laws, and the ASX Listing Rules relating to transactions between related parties. Lithium Australia may require legal and financial advice before deciding what action to take in connection with the intentions outlined in this Section 7.5.

The extent to which Lithium Australia will be able to implement these intentions will be subject to:

- (i) the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules, in particular in relation to related party transactions and conflicts of interests;
- (ii) the legal obligation of the directors of Lepidico to act for proper purposes and in the best interests of LPD Shareholders as a whole; and
- (iii) the level of control that Lithium Australia will eventually be able to exert over the operations and strategy of Lepidico.

7.6 Intentions if effective control of Lepidico is not acquired

Lithium Australia's intentions if Lithium Australia does not gain effective control of Lepidico are as follows.

- (a) Lithium Australia does not expect to be in a position to give effect to the intentions set out in Sections 7.4 or 7.5 of this Bidder's Statement, and
- (b) Lithium Australia would have regard to the circumstances at the time and consider the appropriate courses of action that are in the best interests of LIT Shareholders. Such courses of action might include, but not be limited to, disposing of its shareholding in Lepidico, acquiring further LPD Shares as permitted by law, seeking representation on the Lepidico board through the appointment of one or more of the Lithium Australia directors (commensurate with its shareholding in Lepidico) and exercising its voting rights as a major shareholder as it deems fit.

7.7 Intentions generally

Except for the changes and intentions set out in Sections 7.3, 7.4, and 7.5, it is the present intention of Lithium Australia (based on the information presently available to it) to:

- (a) continue to hold the key assets of Lepidico and not to redeploy its fixed assets;
- (b) substantially continue to conduct Lepidico's business in its current manner, and
- (c) subject to the strategic review, not make any major changes to the business or assets of Lepidico and not to redeploy any of the fixed assets of Lepidico.

8. Australian Tax Considerations

8.1 Introduction

The following summary is a general description of the Australian income tax and CGT consequences for LPD Shareholders who accept the Offer and dispose of their LPD Shares to Lithium Australia in accordance with the Offer.

The summary is based on taxation law and practice in effect at the date of the Offer. It is not intended to be an authoritative or comprehensive analysis of the taxation laws of Australia, nor does it consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to particular shareholders. Further, it does not deal with the taxation consequences of disposing of LPD Shares or LPD Options which may have been issued under an employee share scheme, which may be subject to specific tax provisions.

The Australian tax consequences for LPD Shareholders of disposing of their LPD Shares will depend on a number of factors including:

- (a) whether they are an Australian resident or non-resident for tax purposes;
- (b) whether they hold their LPD Shares on capital account, revenue account or as trading stock;
- (c) when they acquired their LPD Shares;
- (d) whether they are an individual, a company or a trustee of a complying superannuation entity; and
- (e) whether scrip for scrip roll-over relief is available – see Section 8.3 below.

Given the complexity of the taxation legislation, LPD Shareholders should seek independent taxation advice regarding the tax consequences of disposing of LPD Shares given the particular circumstances which apply to them.

8.2 Taxation consequences for LPD Shareholders

(a) Shareholders holding LPD Shares as Trading Stock

LPD Shareholders who hold their LPD Shares as trading stock (e.g. as a share trader) will be required to include the value of the consideration from the disposal of their LPD Shares (the market value of the LIT shares) in their assessable income.

(b) Shareholders holding LPD Shares on Revenue Account

The Australian tax consequences for LPD Shareholders who hold their LPD Shares on revenue account and who accept the Offer will be able to include the amount received (the market value of the LIT Shares) less the cost of acquisition of the LPD Shares as ordinary assessable income. Where the market value of LIT Shares is less than the cost of LPD Shares the loss may be claimed as a tax deduction.

(c) Non-resident shareholders holding LPD Shares as Trading Stock or on Revenue Account

LPD Shareholders who are a non-resident of Australia and whose LPD Shares were acquired as trading stock or otherwise on revenue account, should seek their own professional advice. The Australian tax treatment will depend on the source of any gain or loss and whether a double tax agreement exists between their country of residence and Australia to either limit the amount taxable in Australia or provide a tax credit for tax paid.

(d) Non-resident LPD Shareholders holding LPD Shares on Capital Account

The Australian tax treatment will depend on whether the shares are taxable Australian property (TAP). Where the shares are TAP, any gain derived on the sale of the shares may be subject to capital gains tax. Whether the non-resident shareholder will be able to access the CGT discount (to reduce any part of the taxable gain) will depend on:

- (i) the type of shareholder they are;
- (ii) how long they have held the shares for; and
- (iii) when the shares were acquired. Non-resident shareholders are unable to apply the CGT discount to reduce capital gains derived after 8 May 2012.

LPD Shares would be considered to be TAP for non-resident LPD Shareholders if:

- (i) together with their Associates, they directly or indirectly own at least 10% or more (by value) of the shares in Lepidico:
 - (A) at the time of the sale; or
 - (B) throughout a 12 month period beginning no earlier than 24 months before the time of the sale and ending no later than the time of the sale; and
- (ii) if more than 50% of the value of Lepidico's assets is attributable to Australian real property,

Where the shares are not TAP, it is unlikely that any capital gain will be subject to tax in Australia.

As these rules are complex in their application, we recommend non-resident shareholders seek independent advice in order to determine if any gain would be taxable to them in Australia.

(e) LPD Shareholders holding LPD Shares on Capital Account

In broad terms, the Australian tax consequences for LPD Shareholders who hold their LPD Shares on capital account and who accept the Offer will depend on whether or not 'scric for scric' capital gains tax roll-over relief is available and, if available, is elected. The following discussion considers the general Australian tax consequences for LPD Shareholders where:

- (i) roll-over relief is not available or is not elected; and
- (ii) roll-over relief is available and is elected.

8.3 Acceptance of the Offer where roll-over relief is available and is elected

Australian resident LPD Shareholders may be entitled to 'scric for scric' CGT roll-over relief in respect of the consideration referable to LIT Shares where the exchange of the shares would otherwise realise an assessable capital gain. Broadly speaking, roll-over relief is available to shareholders who exchange shares in one company for shares in another company where the transaction is made pursuant to a takeover bid and provided certain qualifying conditions are satisfied.

In broad terms, these qualifying conditions include the requirement that Lithium Australia must make an offer to all shareholders in Lepidico to acquire their voting shares on substantially the same terms and Lithium Australia must become the owner of at least 80% of the voting shares in Lepidico as a consequence of the Offer.

If the qualifying conditions are satisfied and a LPD Shareholder elects for roll-over relief to apply, the roll-over relief is available.

The effect of the roll-over relief is that the LPD Shareholder's total capital gain will be deferred until the LIT Shares are disposed of.

The CGT cost base of the new LIT Shares acquired in the exchange is determined by reasonably attributing to it the CGT cost base of the LPD Shares for which a roll-over was obtained. For example, the CGT cost base for one LPD Share will be apportioned to the one LIT Share received for each LPD Share. Further, the LPD Shareholders will be taken to acquire their LIT Shares at the time they originally acquired their LPD Shares (for the purpose of determining any entitlement to a discount on an otherwise assessable capital gain in relation to a subsequent dealing in their new LIT Shares).

As discussed above, roll-over relief will only be available if the qualifying conditions are satisfied and LPD Shareholders elect to apply for it. Further, roll-over relief is not available if LPD Shareholders realise a capital loss on the disposal of their LPD Shares.

Scrip for scrip roll-over relief does not apply automatically and must be elected. The election to utilise scrip for scrip roll-over relief is evidenced by the manner in which the tax return for the relevant income year is prepared although it may be prudent to keep a written record of that election with your tax records.

Given the complexity of the provisions governing roll-over relief and the various qualifying conditions that need to be satisfied, LPD Shareholders should seek independent taxation advice regarding their particular circumstances.

Non-resident LPD Shareholders could only obtain roll-over relief in very limited circumstances. It is imperative that non-residents seek independent tax advice to confirm their Australian tax position.

8.4 Acceptance of the Offer where roll-over relief is not available or is not elected

Acceptance of the Offer is likely to involve a disposal by a LPD Shareholder of their LPD Shares for CGT purposes.

An Australian resident LPD Shareholder may make a capital gain or capital loss, depending on whether their capital proceeds from the exchange are more than the cost base of their LPD Shares, or whether those capital proceeds are less than the cost base of those shares.

The Australian tax treatment for non-resident LPD Shareholder will depend on whether the shares are taxable Australian property (TAP). Where the shares are TAP, any gain derived on the sale of the shares may be subject to capital gains tax. Whether the non-resident shareholder will be able to access the CGT discount (to reduce any part of the taxable gain) will depend on:

- (a) the type of shareholder they are;
- (b) how long they have held the shares for; and
- (c) when the shares were acquired. Non-resident shareholders are unable to apply the CGT discount to reduce capital gains derived after 8 May 2012.

LPD Shares would be considered to be TAP for non-resident LPD Shareholders if:

- (a) together with their Associates, they directly or indirectly own at least 10% or more (by value) of the shares in Lepidico:
 - (i) at the time of the sale; or
 - (ii) throughout a 12 month period beginning no earlier than 24 months before the time of the sale and ending no later than the time of the sale; and
- (b) if more than 50% of the value of Lepidico's assets is attributable to Australian real property,

Where the shares are not TAP, it is unlikely that any capital gain will be subject to tax in Australia.

As these rules are complex in their application and subject to the terms of any applicable double tax agreement, we recommend non-resident LPD Shareholders seek independent advice in order to determine if any gain would be taxable to them in Australia.

The capital proceeds that a LPD Shareholder will be taken to have received in respect of the disposal of their LPD Shares will generally be the market value of LIT Shares received on the date of implementation of the Offer.

The cost base of LPD Shares will generally be the cost at which they were acquired including any incidental costs of acquisition.

Where the amount of capital proceeds received by a LPD Shareholder in respect of the disposal of their LPD Shares is greater than the cost base of those LPD Shares, then the shareholder should realise a capital gain for Australian CGT purposes.

Where the amount of capital proceeds received by a LPD Shareholder in respect of the disposal of their LPD Shares is less than the reduced cost base of those LPD Shares, then the LPD Shareholder should realise a capital loss for Australian CGT purposes.

Where it is expected that a capital gain will result, if a LPD Shareholder does not elect for roll-over relief, or that relief is not available, then partial tax relief may be available in the form of the CGT discount.

Specifically, where LPD Shares have been held for at least 12 months before their disposal, a shareholder who is an individual, a complying superannuation entity, or the trustee of a trust, should be able to reduce the capital gain arising from the disposal of LPD Shares by the CGT discount (see below).

The CGT discount will be available if the relevant LPD Shares have been held for at least 12 months.

Subject to the LPD Shareholder having any capital losses or net capital losses from previous income years, where the CGT discount is available, eligible LPD Shareholders which are individuals or trustees of trusts will reduce the nominal capital gain arising on the disposal of LPD Shares by one-half. For individuals, this reduced gain should be assessed at the shareholder's marginal tax rate. Trustees should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of distributions attributable to discounted capital gains.

Subject to the LPD Shareholder having any capital losses or net capital losses from previous income years, where LPD Shares are held by a complying superannuation entity and the CGT discount is available, the discount will reduce the nominal capital gain on the disposal of the shares by one-third.

The CGT discount is generally applied after taking into account any capital losses or net capital losses from previous income years. LPD Shareholders having any capital losses or net capital losses from previous income years should seek independent advice in relation to the potential availability of the CGT discount.

8.5 LPD Shareholders who are Companies will Not be Entitled to the CGT Discount

Companies are not entitled to the CGT discount. The capital gain or capital loss will be calculated with reference to the capital proceeds less the cost base or reduced cost base of the shares. Where a company realises a capital gain, it may be eligible to reduce that gain with capital losses from previous income years. We recommend that companies seek advice from their professional tax adviser in relation to the availability and deductibility of capital losses.

8.6 GST

GST should not apply to the disposal of LPD Shares under the Offer, the issue of LIT Shares under the Offer, or any subsequent disposal of LIT Shares.

LPD Shareholders who are registered for GST purposes may not be entitled to full input tax credits for any GST incurred on costs associated with acquiring or disposing of securities in Lithium Australia or Lepidico. LPD Shareholders should seek their own tax advice in this respect.

9. Risk factors

9.1 Overview

If the Offer becomes unconditional, LPD Shareholders who accept the Offer will become LIT Shareholders. In those circumstances, LPD Shareholders will:

- (a) continue to be exposed to the risks associated to the investment in Lepidico as a result of their indirect interest in Lepidico through Lithium Australia;
- (b) be exposed to the risks specific to an investment in Lithium Australia, and
- (c) be exposed to additional risks relating to the Offer and the Combined Group.

These risks are explained below. LPD Shareholders should read the Bidder's Statement carefully and consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to accept the Offer. By accepting the Offer, LPD Shareholders will be investing in Lithium Australia.

The business activities of Lithium Australia are subject to various risks that may impact on the future performance of Lithium Australia. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate systems and controls, but some are outside the control of Lithium Australia and cannot be mitigated.

Accordingly, an investment in Lithium Australia carries no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, return of capital or the price at which shares will trade and should be considered speculative. The principal risk factors include, but are not limited to, the following.

9.2 Risks relating to the Offer

(a) Issue of LIT Shares as consideration

LPD Shareholders are being offered specific quantities of LIT Shares as consideration under the Offer. As a result, the value of the consideration will fluctuate depending upon the market value of LIT Shares at any given time. Accordingly, the market value of the LIT Shares at the time LPD Shareholders receive them may vary significantly from their market value on the date of acceptance of the Offer.

(b) Rollover relief

If Lithium Australia does not acquire a Relevant Interest in at least 80% of LPD Shares, scrip-for-scrip CGT rollover relief will not be available to LPD Shareholders.

(c) Sale of LIT Shares

Under the Offer, Lithium Australia will issue a significant number of new LIT Shares. Some holders of LPD Shares may not intend to continue holding their LIT Shares and may wish to sell them. There is a risk that this may adversely impact on the price of and demand for LIT Shares.

(d) Acquisition of less than 90% of LPD Shares

It is possible that Lithium Australia could acquire a Relevant Interest of less than 90% of LPD Shares on issue under the Offer. The existence of a minority interest in Lepidico may have an impact on the operations of the Combined Group, although this impact will depend on the ultimate level of Lepidico ownership acquired by Lithium Australia.

(e) Merger integration

If Lithium Australia acquires a substantial interest in Lepidico pursuant to the Offer, integrating Lithium Australia and Lepidico may create some risks, including the integration of management, information systems and work practices. Furthermore, there is no guarantee that any synergy benefits or costs savings will be achieved on time or at all.

(f) Duty and government charges

Stamp duty and other government charges may be payable by Lithium Australia in relation to the Offer. The amount of these duties and charges may be material.

(g) Forward looking information

Certain information in this Bidder's Statement constitutes forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties and a number of assumptions, which may cause the actual expenditure of the Combined Group to be different from the expectations expressed or implied in this Bidder's Statement

(h) Lepidico information

In preparing the information relating to Lepidico contained in this Bidder's Statement, Lithium Australia has relied on publicly available information relating to Lepidico. There may be risks in relation to Lepidico (which will affect the Combined Group) of which Lithium Australia is unaware. If any material risks are known to the directors of Lepidico, these must be disclosed in the target's statement to be issued by Lepidico.

9.3 Risks relating to the Combined Group

This Section 9.3 sets out the risks specific to Lithium Australia and Lepidico as the Combined Group. This Section 9.3 also sets out general and industry risks relating to Lithium Australia and Lepidico as the Combined Group.

Key risks

(a) Additional requirements for capital

The Combined Group's capital requirements rely on numerous factors. Depending on the Combined Group's ability to generate revenue, the Combined Group may require further financing in addition to amounts raised upon calls on the LIT Partly Paid Shares. Any additional equity financing will dilute existing shareholdings, and debt financing (if available) may involve restrictions on future financing and operating activities. If the Combined Group is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, or is unable to obtain it on acceptable terms (whether or not due to the Combined Group's circumstances or economic and share market conditions or both), it may be necessary to reduce the scope of the Combined Group's operations and scale back its exploration programmes. This could have a material adverse effect on the Combined Group's activities and the value of LIT Shares.

(b) Title risk

The mining tenements in which the Combined Group will, or may, in the future acquire an interest, are subject to the applicable local laws and regulations. There is no guarantee that any mining tenements in which the Combined Group has a current or potential interest will be granted.

Mining tenements (or applications) in which the Combined Group has an interest are (or, if granted, will be) subject to the relevant conditions applying in each jurisdiction. Failure to comply with these conditions may render the mining tenements liable to forfeiture.

All of the projects in which the Combined Group has an interest will be subject to application for renewal from time to time. Renewal of the term of each mining tenement is subject to applicable legislation. If the mining tenement is not renewed for any reason, the Combined Group may suffer significant damage through loss of the opportunity to develop and discover any mineral resources on that mining tenement.

(c) Exploration risks

The Combined Group's mining tenements are at various stages of exploration however none of the tenements in which the Combined Group has an interest currently contain a JORC Code compliant resource and there is no guarantee that a JORC Code compliant resource will be discovered on any of the Combined Group's tenements.

Mineral exploration and development are high-risk undertakings due to the high level of inherent uncertainty. There can be no assurance that exploration of the Combined Group's tenements, or of any other tenements that may be acquired by the Combined Group in the future, will result in the discovery of economic mineralisation. Even if economic mineralisation is discovered there is no guarantee that it can be commercially exploited.

The future exploration activities of the Combined Group may be affected by a range of factors including geological conditions, limitations on activities due to seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated operational and technical difficulties, industrial and environmental accidents, native title process, changing government regulations and many other factors beyond the control of the Combined Group.

The success of the Combined Group will also depend on the Combined Group having access to sufficient development capital, being able to maintain title to its projects and obtaining all required approvals for its activities. In the event that exploration programmes prove unsuccessful, this could lead to a diminution in the value of the Combined Group's projects, a reduction in the cash reserves of the Combined Group and possible relinquishment of part or all of the Combined Group's projects.

(d) Development and production risks

The development and operation of any mine by the Combined Group may be affected by various factors, including failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration and mining; failure to obtain or maintain any necessary regulatory approvals; operational and technical difficulties encountered in mining; difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment; mechanical failure or plant breakdown; unanticipated metallurgical problems that may affect extraction costs; adverse weather conditions; industrial and environmental accidents; industrial disputes; and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment.

(e) Country risk

The Combined Group is developing a number of projects in foreign jurisdictions. Any future material adverse changes in government policies or legislation in any of those jurisdictions that affect ownership, mineral exploration, development or mining activities, may affect the viability and profitability of the Combined Group.

The legal systems operating in foreign jurisdictions are different to those operating in Australia and this may result in risks such as:

- (i) different forms of legal redress in the courts whether in respect of a breach of law or regulation, or in an ownership dispute;
- (ii) a higher degree of discretion on the part of governmental agencies;

- (iii) differences in political and administrative guidance on implementing applicable rules and regulations, including, in particular, as regards local taxation and property rights;
- (iv) different attitudes of the judiciary and courts, and
- (v) difficult in enforcing judgments.

The commitment by local business people, government officials and agencies and the judicial system to abide by legal requirements and negotiated agreements may be more uncertain, creating particular concerns with respect to licences and agreements for business. These may be susceptible to revision or cancellation and legal redress may be uncertain or delayed. There can be no assurance that joint ventures, licences, licence applications or other legal arrangements will not be adversely affected by the actions of government authorities or others and the effectiveness and enforcement of such arrangements cannot be assured.

(f) Access risk - native title and Aboriginal heritage

It is possible that Aboriginal sacred sites found within tenements held by the Combined Group may preclude exploration and mining activities and the Combined Group may also experience delays with respect to obtaining permission from the traditional owners to explore and extract resources. The Combined Group currently has no exploration targets covering sacred sites.

The Combined Group must comply with Aboriginal heritage legislation requirements and access agreements which require heritage survey work to be undertaken ahead of the commencement of mining operations. It is possible that some areas of some of the tenements in which the Combined Group has an interest may not be available for exploration due to Aboriginal heritage issues (whether in respect of registered sites or not). Under Western Australian and Commonwealth legislation the Combined Group may need to obtain the consent of the holders of such interests before commencing activities on affected areas of the tenements. These consents may be delayed or given on conditions which are not satisfactory to the Combined Group.

(g) Reliance on key personnel

The responsibility for overseeing the day-to-day operations of the Combined Group lies with its management and key personnel. Lithium Australia is aware of the need for sufficient management to properly supervise exploration and technology commercialisation and development activities of the Combined Group. As the Combined Group's projects and prospects progress and develop the Board will continually monitor the management requirements of the Combined Group and look to employ or engage additional personnel when and where appropriate, in order to ensure proper management of the Combined Group's projects. However there is a risk that the Combined Group may not be able to secure personnel with the relevant experience at the appropriate time which may impact on the Combined Group's ability to complete all of its planned exploration programmes within the expected timetable. Further, LPD Shareholders should be aware that no assurance can be given that there will be no adverse effect on the Combined Group if one or more of its existing directors or management personnel cease their employment or engagement with the Combined Group.

(h) Contractual and joint venture risk

The Combined Group is entitled to the rights in lithium contained in the tenements the subject of its joint venture interests in the proportion in which it has earned its joint venture interest. The Combined Group may not be the registered holder of its interest in those tenements and therefore the Combined Group's ability to achieve its objectives in respect of the tenements is dependent upon it and the registered holder of the tenements complying with their obligations under the relevant agreement giving rise to the Combined Group's interest, and on the registered holder complying with the terms and conditions of the tenements and any other applicable legislation. Any failure to comply with these obligations may result in the Combined Group losing its interest in those tenements, which may have a material adverse effect on the Combined Group's operations and the performance and value of the Share. Currently, the Combined Group has no reason to believe that the registered owner of those tenements will not meet and satisfy its obligations under the relevant agreements, the tenement conditions and other applicable legislation.

The Directors are not able to presently assess the risk of financial failure or default by a participant in any joint venture to which the Combined Group is, or may become, a party, or the insolvency or other failure by any of the contractors engaged by the Combined Group for any exploration or other activity. Any such failure or default could adversely affect the operations and performance of the Combined Group and the value of LIT Shares.

(i) Intellectual property risk

Lepidico's L-Max[®] technology is applicable to the recovery of lithium from micas. There is no guarantee that patent protection will be available for the process. There can be no assurance that any third party to licence agreements to use L-Max[®] will abide by and perform their obligations under any such agreement. There is also a risk that the licences may be terminated in the event of breach.

Lithium Australia has made a patent application for extraction technology, the Sileach[™] process, which is applicable to a significantly broader range of lithium-bearing silicates than L-Max[®]. There is no guarantee the patent will be granted; nor does the grant of a patent guarantee that the patent concerned is valid or that the technology (patented or otherwise) does not infringe the rights of others. This patent will be subject to examination in due course; however, it may not be approved for final acceptance and grant.

Lithium Australia has made a patent application for the LieNa[™] technology, a process of extracting lithium from lithium bearing silicate minerals. There is no guarantee the patent will be granted nor does the grant of a patent guarantee that the patent concerned is valid or that the technology (patented or otherwise) does not infringe the rights of others. This patent will be subject to examination in due course; however, it may not be approved for final acceptance and grant.

The success of the Combined Group's lithium extraction and recovery technology will depend in part on the Combined Group's ability to maintain patents (and therefore proprietary rights) without infringing the proprietary rights of others. The validity and strength of patents involves complex legal and scientific questions and can be uncertain. There can be no assurance that patents in relation to the Sileach[™] process or the LieNa[™] technology will afford the Combined Group commercially significant protection of the Sileach[™] process or the LieNa[™] technology or that competitors will not develop competing technologies that circumvents such patents.

(j) Technology risk

The Combined Group will be a lithium explorer and processing technology developer. It has Intellectual Property rights to a suite of processes for the extraction and recovery of lithium from a broad range of lithium-bearing feedstocks. A significant risk is whether the Combined Group can further develop these processes at a pilot plant and operational level to produce lithium carbonate or lithium hydroxide and thereafter achieve commercial success. A failure to achieve pilot plant and operational milestones will have a significant adverse impact on the Combined Group's business model, operating results and financial position.

Even if the Combined Group does achieve operational production of lithium carbonate or lithium hydroxide, it may not be able to sustain it or otherwise achieve commercialisation to a degree which would support the ongoing viability of its operations.

Industry risks

(a) Operating risks

The current and future operations of the Combined Group, including exploration, project appraisal, development of the Combined Group's technology and intellectual property and possible production activities may be affected by various factors that can limit or prevent such activities. Such factors may include failure to locate or identify mineral deposits; failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration and mining; operational and technical difficulties encountered in surveying, drilling, other exploration activities and/or production activities; difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment; electrical or mechanical failure or plant break; unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect extraction costs; adverse weather conditions; industrial and environmental accidents; industrial disputes, and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of skilled labour, consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment. In relation to commercialisation of the Combined Group's intellectual property and technology, including Sileach™, L-Max® and LieNa™ such factors may include technical issues in designing, engineering and realising processes that successfully achieve desktop test results, or pilot plant test results, or pre-feasibility or feasibility study assumed feasible outcomes.

(b) Resource estimates

None of the Combined Group's tenements contain a JORC Code compliant lithium resource and there is no guarantee that a JORC Code compliant resource will be discovered on any of the Combined Group's tenements. Resource estimates are expressions of judgement based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates which were valid when originally calculated may alter significantly when new information or techniques become available. In addition, by their very nature resource estimates are imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations that may prove inaccurate. As further information becomes available through additional fieldwork and analysis, the estimates are likely to change. This may result in alterations to development and mining plans, which may in turn adversely affect the Combined Group's operations.

(c) Commercial risk

The mining and lithium treatment and production industries are competitive and there is no assurance that, even if the Combined Group discovers commercial quantities of minerals and technology is proved technically feasible, a profitable market will exist for sales of such minerals. There can be no assurance that the quality of any such minerals will be such that they can be mined economically or the technologies exploited commercially.

(d) Commodity price volatility and exchange rate risks

If the Combined Group achieves success leading to mineral production and/ or lithium processing, the revenue it will derive through the sale of lithium or any other minerals it may discover exposes the potential income of the Combined Group to commodity price and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Combined Group. Such factors include: supply and demand fluctuations for precious and base metals; technological advancements; forward-selling activities, and other macro-economic factors such as inflation expectations, interest rates and general global economic conditions.

Further, international prices for various commodities are denominated in United States dollars whereas the income and expenditure of the Combined Group may be taken into account in Australian currency. This exposes the Combined Group to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar as determined in international markets.

If the price of commodities declines this could have an adverse effect on the Combined Group's exploration, development and possible processing and production activities, as well as its ability to fund these activities, which may no longer be profitable.

(e) Insurance risks

Exploration for, and the development of minerals involves hazards and risks that could result in the Combined Group incurring losses or liabilities that could arise from its operations. If the Combined Group incurs losses or liabilities which are not covered by its insurance policies, the funds available for exploration and development will be reduced and the value and/or title to the Combined Group's assets may be at risk.

The Combined Group insures its operations in accordance with industry practice. However in certain circumstances the Combined Group's insurance may not be of a nature or level to provide adequate insurance cover. The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the Combined Group.

Insurance against all risks associated with mining exploration and production is not always available and, where available, the costs can be prohibitive or not adequate to cover all claims.

(f) Environmental risks

The operations and proposed activities of the Combined Group are subject to Western Australian and Commonwealth laws and regulations concerning the environment. As with most exploration projects and mining operations, the Combined Group's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment, particularly if advanced exploration or mine development proceeds. Future legislation and regulations governing exploration, development and possible production may impose significant environmental obligations on the Combined Group.

The cost and complexity of complying with the applicable environmental laws and regulations may prevent the Combined Group from developing potentially economically viable mineral deposits or to successfully commercialise the Sileach™, LieNa™ and/ or L-Max® technologies. The Combined Group may require approval from the relevant authorities before undertaking activities that are likely to impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals, or to obtain them on terms acceptable to the Combined Group may prevent the Combined Group from undertaking its desired activities. The Combined Group is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations that may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Combined Group's cost of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

There can be no assurances that new environmental laws, regulations or stricter enforcement policies, once implemented, will not oblige the Combined Group to incur significant expenses and undertake significant investments in such respect which could have a material adverse effect on the Combined Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

(g) Force majeure

The Combined Group may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Combined Group, including labour unrest, civil disorder, war, subversive activities or sabotage, extreme weather conditions, fires, floods, explosions or other catastrophes, epidemics or quarantine restrictions.

(h) Litigation risks

The Combined Group is exposed to possible litigation risks including native title claims, tenure disputes, environmental claims, occupational health and safety claims, employee claims and claims relating to intellectual property. Further, the Combined Group may be involved in disputes with other parties in the future, which may result in litigation. Any such claim or dispute, if proven, may impact adversely on the Combined Group's operations, financial performance and financial position.

(i) Access to infrastructure

If the Combined Group progresses to production, there is no guarantee that appropriate infrastructure, including affordable rail and port capacity, or location for construction of treatment plants and facilities will be available, and this could have an adverse effect on the Combined Group. In the event of production the Combined Group will also require the use of both power and water infrastructure. Due to high demand for power and water access there is a risk that the Combined Group may not be able to procure such access which could have an adverse effect on the Combined Group.

(j) Competition

The Combined Group is competing with other companies in its exploration and development activities, many of which will have access to greater resources than the Combined Group and may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities. There can be no assurances that the Combined Group can compete effectively with these companies.

General investment risks

(a) General economic conditions

General economic conditions, introduction of tax reform, new legislation, the general level of activity within the resources industry, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Combined Group's exploration, development and possible production activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

(b) Share market conditions

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Combined Group's quoted securities regardless of the Combined Group's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors, including:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) the introduction of tax reform or other new legislation (such as royalties);
- (iii) interest rates and inflation rates;

- (iv) currency fluctuations;
- (v) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors in Australia and/or overseas (such as the exploration industry or the lithium sector within that industry);
- (vi) the demand for, and supply of, capital, and
- (vii) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of LIT Shares can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resource exploration stocks in particular, which influences are beyond the Combined Group's control and unrelated to the Combined Group's performance.

(c) Volatility in global credit and investment markets

Global credit, commodity and investment markets have recently experienced a high degree of uncertainty and volatility. The factors leading to this situation have been outside the control of the Combined Group and may continue for some time, resulting in continued volatility and uncertainty in world stock markets (including the ASX). This may impact the price at which LIT Shares trade regardless of operating performance and affect the Combined Group's ability to raise additional equity and/or debt, if required to achieve its objectives.

(d) Government and legal risk

The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation by governments (including the introduction of tax reform), developments in existing common law or the respective interpretation of the legal requirements in any of the legal jurisdictions that govern the Combined Group's operations or contractual obligations, could impact adversely on the assets, operations and, ultimately, the financial performance of the Combined Group. The same adverse impact is possible as a result of the introduction of new government policy or amendments to existing government policy, including such matters as access to lands and infrastructure, compliance with environmental regulations, taxation and royalties.

(e) Regulatory approvals

The Combined Group's exploration and development activities are subject to extensive laws and regulations relating to numerous matters that include resource licence consent, environmental compliance and rehabilitation, taxation, employee relations, health and worker safety, waste disposal, protection of the environment, protection of endangered and protected species, and others. The Combined Group requires permits from regulatory authorities to authorise the Combined Group's operations. These permits relate to exploration, development, production and rehabilitation activities.

Obtaining the necessary permits can be time consuming and there is a risk that the Combined Group will not obtain them on acceptable terms, in a timely manner, or at all. The costs and delays associated with obtaining the necessary permits and complying with those permits and applicable laws and regulations could materially delay or restrict the Combined Group from proceeding with the development of a project or the operation of a mine and/or constructing mineral treatment and processing facilities. Any failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations, even if inadvertent, could result in material fines, penalties or other liabilities. In extreme cases, failure could result in the suspension of the Combined Group's activities or forfeiture of one or more of the Combined Group's tenements and/or commercialisation of the Combined Group's technologies.
